Project Title: Steinway and Sons Website

I want this website to have multiple pages that describe different aspects of the company. I think each topic can have unique and individual photos to go along with the given topic. Hopefully this website roughly simulates what their company website should be like.

- Home Page – showcasing various pianos and giving very brief points of the other topics that will be on the website

- History/origin of company

- Various models available to purchase

- History of unique models

- How they are built/what makes them so special

- Relevant artists who use Steinways

- Various locations where you can purchase pianos.
